THE KINGDOM IS A MISSION
Acts 2:38-47, Matthew 10:1-8

The kingdom isn't confined by space or time. The kingdom comes near when God's people are willing to go, to bring peace, healing, and good news wherever they are. Kingdom work isn't just waiting, but living out the reign of God.

 Monday: Read Matthew 10:1–4.
Jesus called his disciples by name and sent them out with authority.
Where do you sense Jesus calling you by name and sending you to bring His presence, right where you already are?

 Tuesday: Read Matthew 10:5–7.
The disciples' message is simple but world-changing: "The kingdom of heaven has come near."
What might it look like for you to live each day as if the kingdom has already come near through your words, actions, and compassion?

 Wednesday: Read Matthew 10:8.
Jesus tells his followers to heal, raise, cleanse, and drive out evil, and then He adds, "Freely you have received; freely give."
How have you freely received God's grace in your life, and how might you share that same grace without condition or hesitation with others in the days and weeks to come?

 Thursday: Read Acts 1:3-8.
Before ascending, Jesus promises the Holy Spirit and tells His followers that while they won't know when the restoration of the kingdom will happen, they will be empowered by the Holy Spirit and are invited to be witnesses "to the ends of the earth."
Why do you think God chooses to spread the kingdom through ordinary people as witnesses instead of powerful rulers?

 Friday: Read Acts 2:42–44.
The early believers devoted themselves to teaching, fellowship, and prayer, sharing what they had with one another.
What practices of community – learning, praying, giving, sharing – can you engage in to live out the kingdom of God here and now?

 Saturday: Read Acts 2:45–47.
The believers' generosity and joy drew others into the movement, and the book of Acts tells us the Lord "added to their number daily."
How can your daily life - your generosity, your joy, your ordinary actions – help others catch a glimpse of God's kingdom?

The kingdom spreads through ordinary people living out extraordinary love.
Call to Action: Go and live the kingdom wherever you are.
